TRY WOMAN FOR THEFT OF THREE SUITS

Trial of Theoria Jackson, Washington, D. C., on charges of conspiracy, burglary and larceny arising from the alleged theft of three suits from the Hershey Men's Shop, Baltimore St., last March 19 began in Adams County court this morning.

Miss Jackson is charged with Ernest T. Moore, Washington, but the court told the jury this morning that Mr. Moore is unavailable to Adams County at present.

Frank Noble, an employee at Hershey's Men's Shop, and the owner of the establishment, Donald Hershey, told of an earlier visit to the store by persons alleged to be Miss Jackson and Mr. Moore. As a result of that visit, they were looking for the couple should they ever return.

WATCHED BY POLICE

When the pair came into the store March 19, Noble left on a pretext and went to the engine house on E. Middle St. to obtain police.

Donald Jacobs, janitor at the fire house, told of Noble coming to the engine house to seek police. Chief Jack Bartlett and Officer Ray Breighner then observed the couple as they crossed from E. Middle St. at the engine house to the alley running north behind Minter's Store. Jacobs said he saw Miss Jackson "walking peculiarly" and, as the couple entered the alley, what appeared to be clothing dropped out from under her skirt. He said she stooped and put the article of clothing back under her skirt.

Chief Bartlett said he and Breighner followed the couple north on the alley. At its intersection with an alley running east and west between Baltimore and S. Stratton Sts., the man ran off toward Baltimore St. and the woman stopped.

At the same time, the judgment alleges they were $1,500 in arrears on paying 80 per cent of the rental of hotel rooms to the Bel Corporation, owner of the premises, while the Seases claim they only owed $894.72 under the terms of the lease. The judgment (Continued On Page 2)

Hijacked Freighter Drops Anchor Off Brazil Coast

By HORST BUCHHOLZ

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui spent the night lying to near Maracaibo Island off the Brazilian coast as pursuing U.S. and Venezuelan warships sped toward the scene.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said what the Communist captors of the vessel were doing off the Brazilian island or why it stopped there remained a mystery. Two small boats visited the freighter Sunday night but there has been no sign of movement since, the Navy said.

STOPS SUDDENLY

The U.S. Defense Department said a tracking American plane saw the 3,127-ton freighter ship stop dead in the water suddenly off the Brazilian island about 7 p.m.

The island lies about 300 miles northwest of the Brazilian port of Belem, where the hijackers had indicated they might seek refuge. The report from the tracking plane gave no hint of the identity of people in the boats that appeared alongside the freighter.

Communist gunmen stowed away on the Anzoategui early last week and with the help of one or more members of the crew took over the ship Wednesday after it sailed from Venezuela for New Orleans, La., and Houston, Tex.

ARE HELD CAPTIVE

The hijackers reportedly made the captain and most of his 35-man crew captive. President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Communist government branded the hijackers mutineers and appealed to friendly nations with forces in the Caribbean to seize the freighter. Seizure of the vessel appeared to be part of a Communist attempt to force Betancourt to cancel a visit with President Kennedy in Washington this week. Betancourt went ahead with plans to leave for Puerto Rico today and to fly on to Washington Tuesday. Although Fidel Castro's regime (Continued On Page 3)

SET MARCH 11 FOR HEARING IN EJECTMENT

The Adams County court this morning set March 11 as the date for the Bel Corporation to show cause why the judgment for $5,308.57 it brought against Charles W. and Ethel M. According to a petition filed in the court this morning by Attorney Gerald Walmer for Mr. and Mrs. Sease, the Bel Corporation through its treasurer, Harold R. Streett, Highland Ave., had a judgment for $5,308.57 entered against the Seases on February 8, the same date a writ of possession (action in ejectment) was filed by the corporation against the operators of the inn.

JAIL MOTORIST FOR DRIVING WHILE DRUNK

John C. Timmaman, 33, Thomastown R. 1, this morning pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving filed following an auto accident Saturday evening on Steinwehr Ave. in which Timmaman's auto and an auto owned by Mrs. Evelyn Knox, Steinwehr Ave., were demolished.

Timmaman's car caught fire following the accident at 7 o'clock and firemen were summoned. The fire was the first of two car blazes on Steinwehr Ave. Saturday night.

Borough police said Timmaman told them he had been in Emmitsburg when a friend wished to go to Gettysburg. Timmaman drove his friend here and was returning to Emmitsburg when his car crashed into the rear of a 1960 Falcon owned by Mrs. Knox and parked in front of her home.

The impact drove the parked car about 30 feet into a Metropolitan Edison Company pole, demolishing that vehicle, driving in both the front and rear ends of the car and splintering the pole at its base so that it had to be replaced today.

CAR CATCHES FIRE

After the accident Timmaman's auto continued on south about 150 feet and then burst into flames. Damage was estimated by borough police at $200 to Timmaman's car, which was described as demolished, $1,600 to Mrs. Knox's car and $150 to the light pole.

Police took Timmaman to the Warner Hospital where physicians pronounced him under the influence of intoxicants. He was then charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with drunken driving and placed in the county jail.

This morning Timmaman was taken before the justice for a hearing, pleaded guilty and in default of bail was returned to jail.

Police recognized Timmaman when they arrived at the scene Saturday night. Last November 12 Timmaman escaped injury when his car crashed into the barn of Maurice Wherley, Gettysburg R. 1, after leaving the Taneytown Rd. Timmaman then was brought to Gettysburg and about three hours later was struck by a car in Lincoln Square. He was removed to the Warner Hospital and later questioned by borough police.

Firemen were summoned again at 8:25 o'clock to Steinwehr Ave. A car driven by a Mr. Criswell, of Fayetteville, had been proceeding along Steinwehr Ave., near the Philips 66 Station, at the intersection with S. Washington St. when fire broke out. Fire Chief Robert Hartman, who operates the service station, extinguished the fire before firemen arrived. Damage was estimated at $200.

PUERTO RICAN GIVEN 11 TO 23 MONTHS IN JAIL ON GUN CHARGE

Ramon Martinez, 27-year-old Puerto Rican clothing salesman, found not guilty of murder and involuntary manslaughter charges by an Adams County jury Saturday morning, was sentenced Saturday afternoon by the court to from 11 to 23 months in the county jail on a charge of the uniform firearms act.

The jury, returning three verdicts at the end of the four-day murder trial in county court, had handed up verdicts at 11:16 a.m. acquitting Martinez of the murder and involuntary manslaughter charges and had found him guilty of carrying and discharging a deadly weapon.

Judge W. C. Sheely said the court considered the discharging of the weapon as part of the innocent decision and gave him a suspended sentence on that portion of the charge of which he was found guilty, then imposed the sentence on the carrying a weapon without a license portion of the charges against him.

TAWNEY FINED $250

Martinez was accused in connection with the fatal shooting of a Puerto Rican laborer, Martin Siarres, 23, last November in the Breezewood migrant labor camp near Bendersville.

James E. Tawney, W. Middle St., appearing before the court on a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of bookmaking, was given a suspended sentence "due to your physical condition," and placed on probation on condition that he pay $250 for the use of the county and the costs. He was given a week to pay the fine costs.

State police said Tawney had been in an automobile accident west of here along the Fairfield Rd. When they went to the scene, police said, they found old slips in his car indicating bookmaking.

PLANNED TO QUIT

Police said they then went to the Warner Hospital and found in Tawney's clothing bookmaking slips for the current day. They said they confiscated $104 from the amount of money Tawney had on him because the slips indicated $104 had been bet.

Tawney argued that the bets he had accepted were small and "wouldn't hurt anyone." He also argued that $104 was a larger sum than the amount he had collected.

DEATH CLAIMS MONTE BLUE

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Monte Blue, 76, veteran screen actor and circus press agent, died today at Deaconess Hospital, where he had been under treatment after suffering a coronary attack.

Blue, an advance man for the Hamid-Morton Circus, came to Milwaukee last week to publicize the Tripoli Shrine Circus which opens today. He collapsed Thursday.

A physician said a bad cold and a severe attack of influenza complicated the heart condition from which Blue suffered.

His wife, Betty, was summoned from their home at Beverly Hills, Calif. She was resting in another room when Blue took a sudden turn for the worse. He died at 6:20 a.m. today.

Blue's career in the movies dated back to the silent films. He played a variety of roles but was starred in many Westerns.

LINKS IKE TO PLANS IN 1954

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thurston B. Morton has linked former President Dwight D. Eisenhower with plans for the 1954 overthrow of the pro-communist government of Guatemala. And he says Eisenhower was ready to make sure it succeeded.

Morton, a Kentucky Republican who was assistant secretary of state for congressional relations when Guatemala was invaded by anti-Communists, quoted Eisenhower as asking when the attack plans were made.

"Are you sure this is going to succeed?"

After being assured that it would, Morton said, Eisenhower responded:

"I'm prepared to take any steps that are necessary to see that it succeeds. For if it succeeds it's the people of Guatemala throwing off the yoke of communism. If it fails, the flag of the United States has failed."

Morton's comments were made Friday at a Republican dinner in Baltimore. Film clips of his statement on Guatemala were shown Sunday on a television news program (CBS—Washington Report).

Eisenhower was not available for comment.

POLARIS WILL BE VOTE ISSUE

ROME (AP)—President Antonio Segni dissolved Parliament today and Italy headed for a national election in which the Polaris missile will be a campaign battle cry.

Premier Amintore Fanfani's Cabinet scheduled the election April 28-29 with the new Parliament to meet May 16.

The Parliament lived its full life of almost five years despite repeated government crises. It was dissolved as cracks appeared in Fanfani's coalition of Christian Democrats, Democratic Socialists and Republicans, which had a majority in Parliament only because of the support of Pietro Nenni's left-wing Socialists.

The more than 30 million voters must decide whether to continue Fanfani's left-leaning government.

On their decision will depend Italy's role in the new nuclear strategy—substitution of Polaris submarines in the Mediterranean for Jupiter missiles in Italy and Turkey.

U.S. officials reportedly have indicated a desire to provide an Italian base for the three Polaris submarines that will start patrolling the Mediterranean April 1. Washington is said to have put off the matter until after the elections.

held they were $212 in arrears in paying over 80 per cent of the rentals for apartments when they were actually only $28 in arrears since they actually owed only $176 while the corporation owed them $140 in that matter, it is claimed.

The judgment alleges the Seases were $480 in arrears on payment for rooms occupied by the defendants personally. They held that the lease only provided for payment of 80 per cent on rooms on which rentals were collected and since they collected no rent from themselves the amount is not due.

CITE COUNTERCLAIMS

The Seases also alleged that all of the $233.97 insurance on the property could not be assessed against them since the policy ran from July 1 to June 30 and they were there only a part of that time.

In addition, the Seases allege that Bel Corporation owed them $531 for electricity for the upper floors of the hotel, $291.69 for heat for part of the building, $148.86 for laundry, $38.71 for repairs to the building, $1.50 for kindling to start fires and $150 for gas heat provided during the fall of 1962 when the furnace broke down. In addition, the Seases claim that during February or March 1962, the corporation took out the plumbing on the third floor and as a result those rooms could not be rented, so Bel Air Corporation, the Seases claim, owes them 20 per cent for the rental of those rooms or $200.

Derelict Missile Destroyed In Air

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Polaris A3 missile veered off course during second-stage flight today and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

The missile darted off a land launching pad and performed normally through first-stage flight. But shortly after the second stage separated and ignited it began to corkscrew out of control and the safety officer sent a radio signal to detonate explosive charges in the vehicle.

Pieces of the rocket fell into the Atlantic several miles offshore. The rocket was intended to cover an 1,800-mile course. Test firings on Feb. 7 and Feb. 11 were successful. The first six shots in the series failed.

The A3, which eventually will have a reach of 2,875 miles, is scheduled to be ready for operational deployment aboard nuclear submarines in about 18 months.

The Brazilian navy stood by to seize the ship if it crossed the three-mile limit but the Brazilian government has indicated it would grant the hijackers asylum.

Put On Pension At 32 In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—Carpenter Leslie Cox has been pensioned off at 32 because he's allergic to wood.

For 14 years Cox worked for the city parks department. Then he started developing a skin rash whenever he handled certain kinds of wood. The parks department had no other job for him. He was pensioned off.

That means he will draw 3 pounds—$8.40—a week for the next 33 years. Then, at 65, his pension will drop to 2 pounds 11 shillings and 1 penny—slightly over $7. He'll get that for the rest of his life.

Cox says he's going to look for another job—where he doesn't handle wood.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The South Viet Nam government claimed today that its forces killed 21 Communist guerrillas in an operation a few miles outside Saigon on Saturday.

responsible position." During Myers' 4½ years at Gettysburg, most of the up-grading and expansion of the National Military Park under the park service's "Mission 66" program was carried out. The most notable accomplishment during this period was the construction of the new Visitor Center and cyclorama building, considered by many architects to be the most outstanding building administered by the Department of the Interior. He has also been active in cooperating in the development of the program of the Gettysburg Centennial Commission.

26-YEAR SERVICE

Myers is a native of Mount Sidney, Va., and served 11 of his 26 years with the park service in the southeast region, of which Cape Hatteras National Seashore is a part. He began his career as a clerk in the regional office, Richmond, Va., in 1937, and advanced to property and equipment supervisor before being transferred to Manassas National Battlefield Park, Va., in 1948 as custodian and later superintendent. In 1955 he became superintendent of the Roosevelt-Vanderbilt National Historic Sites, Hyde Park, N. Y., where he served until appointed superintendent here in June, 1958.

Samuel G. Sollenberger, assistant superintendent of the local National Military Park, has been named acting superintendent until Myers' replacement is named.

was introduced in 1840. He said Benjamin Franklin was the first postmaster general of the United States and traced the U.S. postal service through its Pony Express days to the present 38,000 post offices that handle 55 billion pieces of mail annually which, he said, is more than is handled by all the rest of the post offices in the world combined.

GIVES LIST OF PM'S

He listed Biglerville postmasters from Henry Coser in 1833 when Biglerville was Middletown. Other postmasters and the years in which each took office follow: John Rether, 1838; George Rex, 1861; John Rether, 1868; Samuel Bream, 1885; William Thomas, 1889; Alonzo H. Thomas, 1891; John Stevens, 1891; William Lauver, 1895; John W. Stevens, 1897; Charles P. Walter, 1901; Harry V. Walter, 1912; O. A. Nary, 1933, and Earl E. Carey, who took over in 1938.

Mr. Hartman said the post office in 1872 was located in the room now known as Walter's barber shop. In 1889 it moved to a store operated by John Stevens in what is known now as the Houck apartment building. About 1902 it was moved to the present location of Baker's meat market and then to what is known now as St. Paul's Lutheran parsonage. In 1922 it moved to the present Dugan's barber shop and then to the Walter building from where it moved last December 1 to the new building at W. York and High Sts.

Mr. Hartman hailed the erection of the new building as evidence of a growing community and of the "progressive, friendly, energetic spirit that pervades this community that causes it to grow and

New Biglerville Post Office

About 75 persons gathered in this new Biglerville Post Office building Saturday for formal dedication of the structure that went into use last December 1. Postmaster Earl E. Carey said PO Department engineers have told him it is "one of the nicest second class offices in eastern Pennsylvania." The new building is located on the southeast corner of W. York and High Sts. lected for the bets. The court said state police and the probation officer could go over the bets with Tawney and the amount shown by the bets would be confiscated.

The court noted that Tawney had been before it previously on moonshining charges and suggested he find a job not outside the law. Tawney, who said he had planned to give up bookmaking the day he had the accident, said he is now working at the Silver Dollar. Tawney suffered a cracked vertebra in his back in the accident which led to his arrest and is still wearing a high neck brace. Police noted he had previously paid a $30 fine and costs on a will cause it to grow in the future."

"ONE OF NICEST"

As he welcomed the audience at the beginning of the program, Mr. Carey, who has served longer than any other postmaster in Biglerville, said Post Office Department engineers have rescribed the new Biglerville structure as "one of the nicest second class offices in eastern Pennsylvania."

Members of Mr. Carey's staff, seated with the speakers at the front of the room were introduced as follows: Miss Myrtle Raffensperger, clerk; Robert Group, clerk; Glen Thomas, substitute clerk; Mrs. Shirley Bower, Guernsey rural station; Clyde Heller, carrier for Rural Route 2; Walter Mellott, temporary carrier on Rural Route 1, and Gene Staub, substitute rural carrier.

Letters of regret were read from Senators Joseph Clark and Hugh Scott, both of whom had been invited to attend, and a congratulatory letter from the Rev. Fred A. Trimble, pastor of the Arendtsville United Church of Christ.

CITIES IMPROVED SERVICE

In his dedicatory talk, Mr. Owens cited improvements in mail service by the present administration together with economies and expansion of service in new communities. "Our postal service is better than ever and it will continue to improve," he said. He pointed out the Biglerville office is privately owned and therefore the property continues to be taxable.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville Lutheran pastor, and the benediction by the Rev. Laverne Rohrbach, pastor of the Centenary EUB Church of Biglerville. There were several selections by this trio of high school girls: Carolyn Starry, Carol Crum and Carol Houck, with Dorinda Clark as accompanist. They sang "America, Our Heritage," "This Is My Country" and "God Bless America."

Fred G. Klunk, Democratic county chairman, was introduced as were visiting postmasters.

WAYNESBORO FIRM OWNER

In presenting the flag to the post office, Congressman Goodling said the emblem already has flown from the staff of the U.S. Capitol and the Post Office Department building in Washington. He presented the flag to the postmaster. The Biglerville office has 280 box holders and serves 235 patrons on Route 2 and 300 on Route 1. Twenty other families are served through general delivery.

The new post office is owned by the Romala Investment Corporation of Waynesboro, B. J. Roberts, president.

ZETTLE SPEAKS

Frank S. Zettle discussed the rising costs of production of apples and advised closer supervision by operators for greater efficiency and more profitable production. He said that the "grower who ignores the importance of reduced costs will be forced out of apple production" by exorbitant costs.

Ralph Sandoe, appearing on a panel of roadside operators which included Stuart Luckenbaugh, Robert Kime and Earl H. Peters, said "there is an increasing market for apricots, nuts and strawberries" on local roadside markets. The panel agreed that "sales personnel must be pleasant" and that a long season market program must be practiced for satisfactory results. Members also emphasized the trend toward smaller units of higher quality produce and concluded that "the public wants highly colored fruit of uniform size and quality."

Thomas Piper, marketing specialist, moderated the panel. Dr. Carlton Taylor presented an illustrated lecture of colored slides taken during his trip to Argentina last year. The meeting adjourned at 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon.

Guerillas Near Winchester, Va. On Saturday evening last intense excitement was created in Winchester by the arrival of a staff officer with the information that a party of guerillas had attacked the stage from Martinsburg and captured it, with its passengers and baggage. Five companies of Union cavalry, among the number three of the Thirteenth Pennsylvania, were immediately ordered to scout the different roads, and at an early hour on the following morning succeeded in recapturing the stage, horses and a portion of the harness. The driver and passengers also succeeded in reaching Winchester in safety. Two of the marauders were captured and one killed.

Gen. Grant's forces, we learn, are by no means idle. A naval expedition started on February 6th to find a passage through which boats may reach the Mississippi River below Vicksburg. It is said there is a bayou leading from the lakes to the river, thirty miles below Vicksburg, which is navigable for boats at the present stage of water. Lake Providence is on the Louisiana side, above Young's Point, and is entered from the bend of the river known as Lake Providence Bend. The Rebels are said to be engaged in iron plating the steamboat Vicksburg at the landing.

Today's Talk

DO NOT BOAST

I never could see much sense in boasting. If a man is successful, he has usually had to pay for it in hard work. If a woman is beautiful, she doesn't owe anything to herself — she owes her beauty to God, who made her face!

Boasting doesn't get anyone anywhere. Each of us is favored by so many different phases of life — birth, circumstances, luck, and events. Great success does not always come to the most deserving — but there are grades of success, and each is largely influenced by the individual. If a man wants a thing badly enough, and is willing to make the necessary sacrifices, and to put the required amount of thought and work into the thing upon which he concentrates his strength, and ambition, it is difficult to keep success away.

To boast about one's rise is to dim its influence upon others and lessen its inspirational value. On the other hand we are all heartened by the simple story of a useful career.

No real man ever boasts his gained advantage over someone else. Most such men are truly grateful for the way fortune has favored them.

We are not born equal in this world. Opportunity, however, is offered equally to all. The trouble lies in so many being born with limited gifts, either of health, mind, or family background. Each figure in an important manner. Environment comes in, too. So that when a man is highly favored, he would be poor in character indeed to boast of any advantages.

Each of us is richly rewarded for the use we put our energies to, for what we have, and for the way we handle our individual lives. We should be eternally grateful for what success and happiness come to us, and try to pass them on in some form or other to those less favored — but never through boasting.

Just to be born with a deep sense of appreciation for all that is fine and beautiful in life and nature is to be rich! All nature is a free theater of beauty.

FAMILY PRIDE

Well, life at the most as I see it is mixture of pleasure and pain, Of worth and the striving to be it, And folly again and again. The goal of the bravest and weakest Is peace and a neighbor's esteem, And the aim of the boldest and meekest Is something that lies in a dream.

The fortunate gather up riches. The luckless with less must abide, But life has an ultimate, which is Summed up in contentment and pride. And the roof which has sheltered good feeling, And warmth 'gainst the tempests that blow, Hears laughter from floorboard to ceiling, Has all that great wealth can bestow.

The joy of a lifetime is seeing Beyond all the heartache and pain The son a responsible being, The daughter with never a stain. And it isn't a matter of wages Or shrewdness or strength or acclaim. The ultimate joy of old age is The family proud of its name! Protected, 1963, by The George Matthews Adams Service

SEE FIGHT ON HARNESS RACE LAW CHANGES

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A sponsor of the original harness racing law proposed today that horse breeders and trainers be excluded from holding interest or employment at harness tracks.

Rep. William F. Renwick, D-Eli, proposed the additional restrictions be inserted in a Scranton administration bill now before the House for a final vote. The bill imposes such restrictions on political officers and public employees.

Rep. Maurice H. Goldstein, R-Allegheny, principal sponsor of the administration measure, said he would oppose Renwick's amendment.

URGES SCHOOL HEARING

Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer proposed public hearings be held on the school district reorganization issue.

"It seems to me that both the Senate and House committees on education — perhaps working together should have a public hearing on the proposed legislation to permit interested groups to have their viewpoints heard," he said.

At the same time, another suggestion that a clause repealing the 1961 compulsory reorganization act be inserted into the administration's new compulsory reorganization plan was rejected by administration spokesmen.

WARNS DIE-HARDS

"The Justice Department tells us that such a clause would create legal difficulties and complications because it is not normal procedure," explained A. James Reichley, Scranton's legislative secretary.

"The legal effect might be to throw large sections of the school code into doubt."

Sen. Paul L. Wagner, R-Schuylkill, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, also said the idea had been scrapped.

"Some of the die-hards who want repeal will have to get it into their heads that they've got to pass something better or accept Act 561 (the 1961 reorganization law)," Wagner said.

OFFERED AS GIMMICK

The repeal clause was conceived as a psychological gimmick to give rabid opponents of the 1961 act a chance to vote for its repeal while voting to substitute Scranton's own plan which is much simpler.

The Scranton proposal's major difference is its provision to exempt districts conducting an acceptable quality program. Shafer said there will be problems needing adjustment before the bill is finally passed, but added: "It will be a step forward because it will cover the areas that were missing in the original law and enable us to achieve the goals of reorganization."

"I think those senators who were originally opposed are beginning to come over to our point of view, because basically they favor reorganization as such," he said.

FIGHT EXPECTED

House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson was considering placing the harness racing legislation — two bills — to a vote today.

A difficult fight was expected. Renwick told The Associated Press that if politicians and public employees are going to be excluded from track operations then breeders and trainers should be, too.

"He (Goldstein) says he wants to keep all special interest groups out of it," Renwick said. "But he forgets the breeders."

SEVERAL AFFECTED

"If he's going to keep the special interest groups out he ought to include them — and the trainers."

Goldstein commented that Renwick — or rather the cost not to exceed this amount. Fair progress was made.

Last evening as Mr. Daniel A. Skelly, of the firm of Skelly & Warner, was crossing from the store to Mr. Cox's corner he was run into by a sleigh, knocked down and very painfully injured. Fortunately no bones were broken but the shock to his nervous system was severe. Dr. J. C. Felty rendered the necessary medical service. There is too much fast driving on our streets. Some of them are regular race tracks in the sleighing season. Everybody who has a horse that can trot inside of ten minutes seems to think our thoroughfares are training grounds, and use them accordingly.

TAKE STEPS TO CHECK FLU EPIDEMICS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some schools closed and hospitals in several cities suspended visiting hours today in a grim effort to slow the spread of influenza.

Pneumonia-influenza deaths continued above epidemic proportions for the fifth week in figures obtained from 108 cities by the communicable disease center of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Outbreaks of Asian type flu were confirmed in New York, Maryland, North Carolina, Kansas, Michigan and the District of Columbia.

A physician in Albany, N.Y., who recently visited Baltimore was the only confirmed case of Asian flu in upstate New York where at least seven schools closed for part of last week.

The health commission of Milwaukee, Dr. E. R. Krumbiegel, predicted an Asian flu outbreak would reach epidemic proportions in that city.

Visiting hours were suspended until further notice at Memphis, Tenn., city hospitals where more than 500 patients were treated for upper respiratory infections.

ATE OUTSIDE

"We didn't have too much trouble with them," McGuire said. "I guess it took about two hours to take care of all of them. There were people all over the place. There must have been 5,000 people here. We fed them outside where we set up tables. We couldn't possibly fit them inside."

The radio station arranged bus transportation for the hikers' return to Pittsburgh. Only one bus originally had been ordered, but it took more than 10 buses to take the tired hikers back to Pittsburgh.

WIKERS FLOOD MAIN ROAD IN 28-MILE TREK

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—A horde of some 2,000 foot-blistered hikers trudged 28 hilly miles Sunday from Pittsburgh to Washington.

About 1,000 strong departed from Pittsburgh at 9 a. m. and the crowd swelled to an estimated 5,000 as it plodded through suburban areas.

Near the end, at nightfall, the hikers were stretched over a 10-mile section of traffic-clogged Route 19.

DISC JOCKEY LEADS

The hike was inspired by Pittsburgh disc jockey Clark Race (of station KDKA) in another of several recent responses to President Kennedy's plea for physical fitness.

Leading the way, Race came to the finish mark on the campus of Washington and Jefferson College shortly after 6 p. m. and said:

"All I can say is thank God it's over with. I've had it."

Thousands of Washington residents turned out to greet the hikers and a college brass band added a festive touch.

Six persons were treated at Washington Hospital for fatigue and the effects of cold weather. A number of others were treated by nurses at a college medical center for sore feet and fatigue.

TRAFFIC HAZARD

Traffic was a nightmare for Pittsburgh, suburban and state police and drivers along the highway. When the crowd gathered in Pittsburgh a police officer said:

"We can't do a thing with them. They're scattered all over the place."

Out on the highway, state police urged the hikers to keep in only one lane of the four-lane road. Hundreds of autos were backed up bumper-to-bumper, many of them apparently remaining in the rear to pick up hikers forced to quit.

The walkers swamped a restaurant and consumed piles of free food. The manager of the restaurant, Peter McGuire, said they ate about 1,200 sandwiches, 20 gallons of soup, about 150 dozens of doughnuts and drank 3,500 to 4,000 cups of coffee.

RESPONSE FROM BARRY
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Some Arizona newcomers moved into a Phoenix foothills subdivision. On their first morning, their dog, named Barry, ran off.

When the woman's calls caught the ear of a neighbor, he asked if she was calling him. The neighbor, he asked if she was calling him. The neighbor was Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

3 Children Have Same Birth Date

JERSEY SHORE, Pa. (AP) — Three of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cline's five children have one thing in common, despite the differences in their age. They have the same birthdays—Feb. 7.

Baby Margaret Anne is the newest addition to the Jersey Shore family. She was born 10 days ago. Tommy, 7 began the Feb. 7th parade in 1956 and was followed by Mary Jane, 3, in 1960.

All three were born at the Jersey Shore Hospital and all were delivered by Dr. Neil Dunkle.

The Clines' oldest son, John, 10, was born on March 29, while their third daughter, Susan, 5, was born June 15.

NEW BLOCKADE OF CUBA MAY BE NECESSARY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., says another blockade of Cuba may be necessary if Soviet troops on the Caribbean island cannot be forced out by economic pressure or other means.

Republican National Chairman William Miller says the Kennedy administration should consider reimposing the naval quarantine that led to removal of Soviet bombers and missiles from Cuba late last year.

These views and a welter of other congressional opinion about Cuba came in a series of statements and television interviews over the weekend. The consensus from members of both parties was that Communist subversion in Latin America is a bigger problem than the Soviet troops in Cuba.

WANTS SANCTIONS

Stennis said in a television interview that steps to combat the Soviet position in Cuba should include "first, economic pressure, and getting the Organization of American States to cooperate on that as far as they will. And I think unless we get results otherwise we will be driven to a blockade and one step will have to follow another unless results are obtained."

"I don't put any timetable on that," Miller, a House member from New York, said in another television interview that in addition to considering reimposition of the naval quarantine the government should work with the OAS to place economic sanctions against Cuba.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. MacPHERSON

THE FAMILY OF THE REV. WILLIAM PAXTON

The obituary of the Rev. Dr. William Paxton appeared in the "Adams Centinel" on April 21, 1845 and — for that day and age — was long and detailed. It is herewith given in full — because of its historical value —

"Died, Wednesday morning, April 16th, 1845, at his residence in Millerstown (now Fairfield), this County, the Rev. William Paxton, D.D., in the 87th year of his age. Dr. Paxton prosecuted his Theological studies under the tutelage of the Rev. Mr. Sample, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Lancaster and Leacock, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. He was licensed as a probationer to the Gospel Ministry by the Presbytery of New Castle. Soon afterwards he visited Adams County, Pennsylvania, and preached to the people of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, by whom he was soon afterwards called to become their Pastor. On October 3, 1792 he was ordained to the Gospel Ministry, and installed Pastor over the above-named Church by the Presbytery of Carlisle. He exercised this office, with great acceptance to his people, until October 13, 1841, when, at his own request, due to the infirmities of age, the Presbytery dissolved the relation. During the last 10 years of his life three of his four children died.

ALL HAVE EXPIRED

"Of those who composed the Presbytery of Carlisle when Dr. Paxton became a member, but one is yet alive. Black Davidson, Henderson (Joseph), Waugh, McKnight, King, Nesbitt, Williams and others with whom he was associated have long since died."

The three children of the Rev. William and Jane (Dunlap) Paxton, who died during the last 10 years of their father's lifetime, were as follows: —

1. Eliza (Paxton) Johnston, the wife of Thomas Johnston, Esq., born 1799 — died July 7, 1833. Note: — "Married, May 11, 1820, by the Rev. William Paxton, D.D., in this County, Mr. Thomas Johnston, of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Eliza Paxton, the daughter of the Rev. William Paxton, D.D., of Millerstown, this County."

"Died, July 7th, 1833, at Blairsville, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Eliza Johnston, the wife of Thomas Johnston, Esq., and daughter of the Rev. Dr. William Paxton, of this County in the 34th year of her age."

"Died, Wednesday, August 17, 1836, at Blairsville, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, Major Thomas Johnston, aged 43 years."

Eliza (Paxton) Johnston is the only member of her family buried outside of Adams County, Pennsylvania, and both she and her husband are interred at Blairsville, Pennsylvania. It is not known with any degree of certainty, whether there are any descendants of this branch of the family still living.

2. Jane Harriet (Paxton) Crawford — born 1812 — died January 12, 1841.

Note: — "Married, March 7, 1833, by the Rev. William Paxton, D.D., of this County, John S. Crawford, Esq., of Cumberland Township, this County, to Harriet Paxton, daughter of the Rev. William Paxton, D.D., of Millerstown, this County."

"Died, Tuesday, January 12, 1841, Mrs. Harriet Crawford, wife of John S. Crawford, Esq., of Cumberland Township, this County, and daughter of the Rev. William Paxton, D.D., of Millerstown, this County aged 29 years."

Jane Harriet (Paxton) Crawford is buried in the Lower Marsh Creek Churchyard in the family plot of her father and mother.

"Died, June 25, 1841, at New Windsor, Maryland, of measles, Margaretta Crawford, aged about 5 years — also — at the residence of her father, on June 19, 1841, of disease of the brain, Harriet Crawford, aged about 7 months. Both daughters of John S. Crawford, Esq., of Cumberland Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Both of these little girls are buried with their mother in the Paxton family plot in the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard. It will be noted that the dates of death as given on the grave marker and in the obituary are, in both cases, just one day "off."

3. John Paxton, M.D., born 1797 — died December 27, 1840. Note: — "Married, December 3, 1822, by the Rev. Dr. John Paxton, of this County, Dr. John Paxton, of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Jane Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, Esq., of Millerstown, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

"Died, on the 27th of December, 1840, at Millerstown, Adams County, Pennsylvania, of consumption, Dr. John Paxton, in the 44th year of his age. As a physician he was skillful and humane; as

WIDER ZONE FOR PITCHERS SUITS STAN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The major rule change for baseball this year should help the New York Yankees' major acquisition of the winter, Stan Williams.

The pitcher's target has been enlarged some 10 inches, from the top of the batter's shoulders down to his knees. It's that upward enlargement that should benefit the big right-hander who was dealt to the American League champions by the Los Angeles Dodgers during the off-season for first baseman Bill Skowron.

"Williams' best pitch is a rising fast ball and he'll get strikes this year which he didn't last season," manager Ralph Houk said today. "I don't think the new rule will help anyone but the big fastballers."

SAIN AGREES

Johnny Sain, the Yankee pitching coach now working with Williams at the Yankee training camp in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., agrees the change will prove a definite advantage for Stan, and the pitcher agrees with his manager and his coach—with a reservation.

"When I'm wild, I'm wild high, so it should help me there," he said. "I'll get some strikes that were called balls last year. But when I have my stuff, I like to keep the ball low."

The Yankees signed ace southpaw Whitey Ford over the weekend for an estimated $47,000 — about $2,000 more than the accomplished left-hander got last season, when he was 17-8. Ford has the highest winning percentage of any active major league pitcher—175-71 for .711.

The Boston Red Sox signed their leading pitcher, Bill Monbouquette. The right-hander, who has been the top man of Boston's staff the past three seasons, hit a personal high last year with 15 victories—one a no-hitter against the Chicago White Sox. Monbou lost 13.

Sluggo Lee Thomas jumped the gun and reported to the Los Angeles Angels' camp at Palm Springs, Calif., Saturday — three days ahead of schedule — and worked out with the pitchers and catchers.

MARKETS FOR QUALITY GOODS GROW BETTER

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — There's money in good taste—more now perhaps than ever before. Some say good taste is running off the mass production lines.

You can get arguments over what is the best taste. But the market for quality goods, old or new, and for all the activities loosely grouped under the term cultural, improves steadily.

Those who serve the discerning or prepare goods for persons who seek excellence are increasing in numbers and ringing up larger sales totals. Beyond this is the effort, often expensive, to improve the design and workmanship of everyday objects far removed from the strictly cultural or luxurious.

SOME EXAMPLES

A few examples: There are more amateur musicians than golfers. More individuals go to the nation's 5,000 art museums than go fishing. Ticket sale for the theater and opera, professional and amateur, across the land have increased 50 per cent in the last five years. Book sales now top a billion dollars a year.

Not all the books are good, nor are all the shows music, art and furniture. But the public is paying higher prices and buying more of what experts tell us is higher quality and better taste than a few decades back.

Some say the general public's critical judgment has improved. They credit the increased numbers of the young exposed to higher education, plus the 30 million enrolled for adult courses. And there is a spiraling effect: Art museums fill a demand that has sprung up around the country and in turn they lead still others to dabble in art collecting, thus further increasing the need for museums and galleries.

A FIELD THEY WORK

But the biggest factor easily could be the growth of personal incomes and especially the snowballing number of families in the middle income brackets. The rich always had the wherewithal to cultivate their tastes. Now there are many times as many with something left over to spend after taking care of the essentials. And this discretionary spending cash is what the purveyors of the luxury and better taste items go after.

One field they work is industrial research and development. Manufacturers put some $12 billion a year into the search for new products or improvement of old. They employ about 750,000 in product design and patronize 1,500 independent design firms. Out of this come all degrees of taste or lack of it—but sales rivalry can sharpen the search for better taste as a talking point.

DISPLAY THE BEST

Another factor has been the invasion of American goods into the European Common Market where consumer spending has increased spectacularly. U.S. manufacturers say this often involves upgrading the design and quality of merchandise—or at least adapting it to different tastes, which Europeans consider cultivated.

To capture more of the European market in this way, the U.S. Department of Commerce has assigned a New York enterprise, the National Design Center, to set up two home furnishing trade shows in London and Frankfurt, Germany. The aim, at least, is to display only the best to foster marketing through aesthetic appeal.

Good taste sometimes seems lost in the mass of the tawdry. But its apostles insist it's gaining all the time.

DEMOCRATS NEEDLE GOP ON SALARIES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Democrats twitted the Scranton administration last weekend about the salary being paid former U.S. Rep. James E. Van Zandt, now serving as Pennsylvania's lobbyist in Washington.

They also needed the governor's office over what a staff member said was an oversight in the salaries of three top Scranton aides.

State Rep. Daniel F. McDevitt, D-Berks, issued the Saturday statement in the name of the House minority leader's office.

$18,000 FOR VAN ZANDT

McDevitt noted that Van Zandt was being paid $18,000 a year for a job which paid his Democratic predecessor, Andrew Duran, $10,432. He said Van Zandt has been on the state payroll since Feb. 1 and asked:

"Can Pennsylvania taxpayers anticipate expansion of this office's responsibilities in direct ratio to the increased salary benefits awarded to Mr. Van Zandt over his predecessor or must they simply view this as a rather expensive political payoff?"

McDevitt also charged that un-ing from $500 to $925 were given to William Keisling, assistant to the governor; A. James Reichley, legislative secretary, and Jack Conmy, press secretary.

DUE TO OVERSIGHT

William G. Murphy, Gov. Scranton's executive secretary, confirmed the raises, but said they were made because of an oversight.

"The three men are receiving their correct salaries now," Murphy said. "I did not get the correct figures (on the salaries) until after the first pay period."

The original pay records for the three fixed their salaries at: Keisling, $18,000; Conmy and Reichley, $12,075 each.

NO AUSTERITY PROGRAM

The increases bring Keisling's salary to $18,500 a year; Reichley's to $12,675; and Conmy's to $13,000.

At a news conference, Jan. 23, Conmy's salary was reported at $13,000; Reichley's at $12,500; and Keisling's at $18,000.

However, McDevitt noted Scranton's announced austerity program in state government and said:

"Such salary boosts can hardly be considered part of any so-called austerity program in government. Certainly it is doubtful if the Pennsylvania taxpayer who ultimately foots the bill will think so."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

BEAUTY TOOL. Hardly a woman would consider a home remedy kit complete without a box of cotton swabs. Yet many do not realize that swabs have beauty as well as first-aid uses. Actually, few gadgets make handier dressing table accessories.

By swab blending, you can get softer effects with eye shadow—especially with the new powdered shadows. Sparse eyelashes appear more luxuriant when swabbed with talcum powder prior to brushing on mascara.

These applicators are also a boon to the removal of fake eyelashes. You simply dip one in warm water and gently detach the lash strip. You then whisk away the adhesive with a second moist swab. Dampened in skin freshener, swabs remove mascara smudges without disturbing other make-up.

They also do a neat job of cleaning up the hairline after cosmetic applications. With their help you can handle facial bleaches, cuticle oils and hair tonics in a really professional fashion. When you want to take chipped polish off one nail without smearing the others, a cotton swab is the saving implement!

Just dip one in your favorite perfume or skin sachet, and it will scent a handkerchief drawer for weeks. And then you really will know how sweet are the uses of this seemingly modest, mundane little tool.

For 50 ways to look lovelier, send for my leaflet, "INSTANT BEAUTY TIPS." It shows you how to overcome such annoyances as chipped polish, ragged lipline, straggly hair and even stuck zippers; also, how to create glamorous fillips with makeup and accessories. All in the wink of an eye-lash! For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin.

Filter-cleaned Air	Yes ³	No

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. With gas heat, controlled volumes of fresh air can be introduced into the furnace, heated and distributed uniformly throughout the entire house—an important health safeguard. With electric heat there is no provision for fresh air—in fact every effort is made to exclude fresh air—through excessive insulation, storm windows and storm doors—in order to keep heating costs from skyrocketing.
2. Controlled circulation of gas heated air prevents stuffiness in rooms; stale air, smoke, and odors are quickly removed.
3. With gas heat, all the air in the house is circulated several times each hour through dust, dirt, and pollen-catching filters in the furnace. This cleans the air—and clean air means a clean house because most of the dust and dirt that soils drapes, rugs, etc., is air-borne.
4. Since ducts are already in place in a forced air gas heating system, it is easy to convert to central air conditioning. Electric resistance heating, however, has no ducts, therefore cannot be converted to central air conditioning without extensive remodeling.

5. Gas heats the entire house—including the basement. One of the most common complaints about electric resistance heat is that it makes no provision for heat in the basement. Recreation rooms are often not usable without the installation of special auxiliary heating equipment—at extra cost, of course.

6. Gas lines are underground—safe from storms, blizzards, and high winds.

7. Gas heat costs only one-third to one-fourth as much as electric resistance heating and gas heats the whole house—including the basement! You can be assured that the cost of gas heating will be only a fraction of the cost of electric heat for a home constructed and operated in exactly the same manner.

Let's Look At The Record

THE TRIMESTER
To Students, The Summer Session Rose
Smells No Sweeter Under Newest Name

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

EVERYBODY KNOWS schools are not fully used the year around. Summer is the slack season. College classrooms and laboratories are normally in use from 25 per cent to 60 per cent capacity, though grade and high schools are empty.

In recent years there has been a recurring idea that the cure for this inefficiency is to revise the college calendar. The idea seems to be that by eliminating the phrase "summer vacation months," colleges will be full the year around.

Thus we have the "trimester" idea, which divides the year into three neat slices of 16 weeks each; 48 weeks a year.

THE TRIMESTER proposes that a college open on or about June 4.

Comes October 1, the second trimester starts. It ends February 1 or thereabouts. The third, and last, trimester would extend from February 7 to May 30. The remaining four weeks are available for Christmas holidays, Easter vacation, and registration days.

In crowded Chicago, a summer trimester registered 80 per cent of the regular enrollment. This was at Chicago Teachers College and is not impressive. Urban institutions have always attracted summer students. Most of them are teachers seeking to upgrade their credentials.

Parsons College, in Iowa, adopted the plan, but found students just as reluctant to attend college in the summer under the name of trimester as they did when it was labeled the "summer session."

By forcing all students who had less than a C average to attend the summer trimester, Parsons managed to raise the summer attendance to 66 per cent of that of the other months.

Tarkio College, Missouri, hope-fully switched to the trimester plan. Only 26 per cent of enrollment from the other two trimesters showed up for summer in-struction.

That percentage should have attended had they clung to the traditional words "summer session" under which to offer courses for additional credit.

Pittsburgh University is significant as one of the first of the large universities to adopt the trimester calendar. Its advantages and disadvantages there are still subjects of controversy. Most agree nothing has happened there that could not have been done as well within the conventional academic calendar of two semesters, and a summer quarter.

LONG AGO, colleges and universities sought summer students. The year-round academic calendar of four quarters was adopted at the University 40 years ago. It is still in vogue there.

Baylor University, Waco, Tex., copied it soon thereafter. Many others have followed suit: Emory University, Iowa State University, Georgia Tech., University of Minnesota, Pennsylvania State University and scores of others. All have the year-round calendar but most of the students decline going the year around.

In practically all instances, summer enrollments are 20 to 50 per cent of those of the normal academic year of September to June of the following year, irrespective of terminology.

Indeed, to stimulate summer attendance, the Minnesota U. found it necessary to inject an element of summer flexibility.

The summer quarter is divided into short terms of a half quarter each. This is to lure those who will take six weeks of studies but will balk on the full summer with idea. This practice has been copied widely, but college students continue to stay away in droves, all of each and every summer.

RECENTLY, I proposed that full efficiency is always achieved at the price of inconvenience and compulsions upon the individual.

In the learning processes at the college and university level, there should be a minimum of inconvenience and compulsions. Pursuit of learning at that level is a voluntary process. Within reason, it should be voluntary as to annual seasons.

Students often do best when they can alternate between terms of study and gainful employment. They add their parents are the best judges as to when they can best do the one and then the other.

To get 100 per cent efficiency from college and university facilities, heavy compulsions upon the students would be necessary as to what seasons they could and could not attend.

Though most teachers would be delighted to have year-round employment available each and every year, with proportional increases in income, it is my opinion that the learning and progress of many students would suffer materially under the necessary compulsions in the interest of efficiency.

Primarily, colleges and universities do exist for the students and through them for society as a whole. Compulsions as to attendance seasons do not best serve either the individual students or their parents.

DE HAVILAND TO MAKE 1ST FILM IN FIVE YEARS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Olivia de Havilland has come from her Paris home to make her first Hollywood movie in five years—and will spend most of the filming in an elevator car.

Goodness, what are they doing to our glamor queens? They made Joan Crawford a cripple and Bette Davis a horrendous "Baby Jane."

Now they've got sweet Olivia playing a witchy matron trapped in the elevator shaft of her mansion. "This is the new wave," she proclaimed, getting into the swing of it.

"A LITTLE CONFUSED"

"I'm ready to swim along, but I must say I'm a little confused. I don't know whether to use my Australian crawl, side stroke, breast—no, I won't use that."

But she will have to use all her considerable thespic powers to sustain a role that will confine her to an area of five feet square. The plot of the Luther Davis script—he's also the producer—has her stuck in the elevator four days with her family and help gone. Thieves break into the house and terrorize her. If that isn't enough, she also is supposed to be recovering from a broken hip.

Despite the rigors of the role, she considers it the second greatest challenge of her career.

BIGGEST CHALLENGE

"The biggest challenge was 'Snake Pit,'" she recalled. "I had to portray all stages of derangement. I visited asylums and talked to many patients. Fortunately, I was able to find one young girl who was a schizophrenic and going through the same problems that Virginia suffered in the script."

With customary thoroughness, Olivia planned to visit a hospital here before "Lady in a Cage" begins so she can see how a person with a broken hip learns to walk again.

Although she has made American films abroad, the new movie is the first she has made here since "The Proud Rebel" with Alan Ladd in 1958.

"I've got to get used to the changes here," she remarked. "First of all, there are the changes of the landscape—all those new buildings that have shot up."

MISSES MANY FACES

"The other change is harder to adjust to—the absence of familiar faces. I went to the Directors Guild dinner the other night, and I saw only 10 people that I recognized. Yet my director, Walter Grauman, who came out of television, was nodding to everyone on the dance floor. That's where the new crowd is coming from, I guess: Television."

Home has been Paris for Olivia since her marriage to French magazine Editor Pierre Galante nine years ago. He favors her working, she said, since he knows her nature.

"I am the kind of a person who has to keep busy doing something," she said. "I must have some challenge in my life."

She will be getting it during her sojourn in the cage.

Jim Hearn Wins Golf Tournament

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former Giant pitcher Jim Hearn coasted to his second championship in the Baseball Player's Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 301, 21 strokes over par.

Playing the final two rounds on a soggy course in a steady drizzle, the 6-foot-3, 220-pound Hearn built up a four-stroke lead and managed to protect it, despite a final round of 78, 8-over-par.

"I came here believing I could win," said Hearn, now a salesman who lives in Wyckoff, N.J. "That's the same score I had in 1960 when I beat Alvin Dark. I was hoping to finish under 300, but I played too cautiously."

Despite bogeys on the final three holes, Hearn nosed out Billy Herman, Boston Red Sox coach who carded a 75 for a 302 total. Dark, manager of the San Francisco Giants who has won the tournament four times, fired a 76 for 303 and third place.

CINCINNATI UPSET 65-64 BY WICHITA

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

In one of the biggest upset splurges in college basketball history, the name of Dave Stallworth will be written in the biggest letters.

Stallworth fired Wichita to the surprise of surprises Saturday night—a 65-64 conquest of nationally top-ranked Cincinnati. The 6-foot-7 junior poured in an amazing 46 points, including the last seven of the game at Wichita as the Wheatshockers ended the two-time national champions' victory string at 37.

Wichita's triumph was tops in a long list of stunners. Second-ranked Loyola of Chicago got knocked off at Bowling Green, 92-75, fourth-ranked Illinois was outscored at Indiana 103-100, sixth-ranked Mississippi State was up-ended at Florida 73-52, seventh-ranked Colorado lost at Iowa State 73-60 and 10th-ranked Georgia Tech was ambushed at home by Louisville 78-73.

TOUGH ON TOP 10

Eighth-ranked Stanford won at California 68-58 but jumped the gun on the upset spree by being nipped by the Bears on its own floor Friday night 61-60.

That left only three members of the nation's top ten who got through the harrowing weekend unscathed, third-ranked Duke, fifth-ranked Arizona State and ninth-ranked Ohio State.

Duke clinched first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference's regular season race with a 73-60 victory at home over Wake Forest.

Arizona State broke its tie with Brigham Young for the Western Athletic Conference lead, romping at BYU Saturday night 104-97 as Joe Caldwell scored 32 points and Art Becker added 27.

ST. LOUIS FALLS

Ohio State, gunning for its fourth straight Big Ten title, tied Illinois for first by posting a 75-68 decision at Michigan. Gary Bradds paced the Buckeyes with 34 points.

Despite the loss to Wichita, Cincinnati nailed down at least a tie for the Missouri Valley title as St. Louis fell at Tulsa, 66-65.

Bowling Green had Loyola all the way in dealing the Ramblers their first setback in 22 starts this season. With both Cincinnati and Loyola tripped, there are no major unbeatens left.

Auburn romped at home against Louisiana State 82-57 and joined Mississippi State at the top of the Southeastern Conference standings.

NEGROES PLAN NEW PROTEST

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. (AP)—A group of Negro parents who staged a 48-hour sit-in demonstration at the state house in Trenton were considering today a school boycott to protest a racial balance in this community's public schools.

The sit-in action in a reception room for Gov. Richard J. Hughes' office began Friday afternoon. The six men and women who started it vowed they would remain, if necessary, until Feb. 26 when Hughes is to return from a Florida vacation.

It ended at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, however, while 29 pickets marched in front of the state house supporting the demonstration. The picket-carrying signs declared: "Jim Crow schools must go" and "Governor Hughes come home."

Hughes, in a telephoned statement Friday, said he would not return from vacation "to satisfy an obvious publicity bid by these unannounced visitors."

TITLE BATTLE ON SATURDAY

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the return bout is anything like the first one, home television fight fans will be in for a treat Saturday night when Nigeria's Dick Tiger defends his middle-weight crown against Gene Fullmer at Las Vegas, Nev.

The 33-year-old Tiger whipped the 31-year-old titleholder from West Jordan, Utah, in a rip-roaring 15-rounder at San Francisco last Oct. 23. That fight was telecast via closed circuit to theaters and arena.

Saturday's title fight will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV, starting at 10 p. m., EST.

Tiger won the first fight with a relentless attack that had Fullmer backing off after the first four rounds of sizzling slugging. At the finish Fullmer rallied but it was too late to overcome the Nigerian's big margin.

Tiger has a victory streak of eight over a 27-month span. His record is 47-12-2, including 21 knockouts. Fullmer, who had been unbeaten in 17 months over a period of more than five years, now has a 55-5-2 record, including 24 kayos.

Jack Hamilton of Philadelphia led the National League in wild pitches in 1962 with 22.

HIGH HOPES FOR RALSTON IN U.S. TENNIS

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dennis (The Menace) Ralston is perhaps the flashiest tennis player to streak across American courts since Jack Kramer, but his success in winning back the Davis Cup depends on a sensitive trigger temper.

"This boy could be the greatest," said Gardner Mulloy after Ralston had whipped Mike Sangster of Britain 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 10-8 for the National Indoor Championship Sunday, "but he must be handled properly."

BEAT MCKINLEY

"The people who run the game almost cut his heart out when they suspended him a couple of years ago. He is an artist—very moody and temperamental—but if he can be made to believe in himself, there's no limit to where he can go."

Ralston, 20, a junior at the University of Southern California, became the youngest player ever to win the indoor title.

Unseeded, he swept through a star-spangled field that included such world-ranking stars as Roy Emerson of Australia, Manuel Santana of Spain and Chuck McKittrick of San Antonio, Tex. He beat McKinley, the United States' No. 1 ranked player, in the semifinals.

WICHITA EYES TOURNERY BID

WICHITA (AP)—Wichita celebrated its upset of Cincinnati's national champions and awaited a National Invitation Tournament bid today while Ed Jucker, Cincy coach, refused to accept defeat as a blessing in disguise.

The pressure of a 37-game winning streak was lifted from Cincy as the Shockers whipped them Saturday night 65-64. The defeat could help the Bearcats bid for an unprecedented third straight NCAA championship.

Buf Jucker wasn't so sure. He conceded the streak had to end.

HAYES JONES PICKS UP 41ST HURDLES WIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Hayes Jones freely admits he stands head and shoulders above the rest of the world's indoor hurdlers.

He methodically picked up his 41st straight indoor hurdles victory Saturday night in the third annual Mason-Dixon Games and flatly predicted it may be a few more years before he is beaten indoors.

The last time Jones, a Detroit school teacher, lost a hurdles event indoors was in the Knights of Columbus Games in Cleveland in 1959. There he was beaten by Lee Calhoun.

He teaches school at Howe Elementary in Detroit, trains about two hours every day and three nights a week and commutes to Eastern Michigan University several miles away to continue his education. He spends weekends flying around the country to compete in track meets.

6 RECORDS FALL

Six American indoor records fell in the Mason-Dixon Games, which drew a crowd of 10,300, biggest in the event's short history.

The records:

1. Robert Hayes, Florida A&M, 70-yard dash, 6.9 seconds; old record 7.0 seconds.

2. Earl Young, Abilene, Tex., 500-yard run, 55.5 seconds; old record 56.4.

3. Texas Southern University, mile relay, 3:12.2; old record 3:14.4.

4. Georgetown University, 2-mile relay, 7:29; old record 7:30.8.

5. Tennessee A&I, women's 440-yard relay, 48.3; old record 48.6.

6. Willye White, Chicago, women's broad jump, 19 feet, 7 1/4 inches; old record 19-6 1/2.

some time, but snapped:

"It didn't have to come in this game. It's never good to lose."

"We had this game in the bag and then . . . well, some ball say Wichita just took the ball from us . . . But that isn't the way I saw it . . . Free throws beat us."

Ironically, Cincy clinched a tie for the Missouri Valley championship even while losing, since St. Louis was upset at Tulsa.

Dave Stallworth, a smooth 6-foot-7 junior, was the toast of Wichita after his 46-point game. He scored all of the last seven points.

Youth Is Slain Fleeing Policeman

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joseph O'Donnell, 22, died today from a bullet in his head fired by a policeman.

O'Donnell was a passenger in a car police said tried to flee from patrolman James Wilson Saturday night. Detective inspector George Kronbar said Wilson used proper judgment in firing.

The police said the driver of the car was Charles Zimmerman, 20, and said he tried to run down Wilson.

Zimmerman was held in $1,000 bail on assault and other charges.

HELD IN SLUGGING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—James Johnson, 24, a city laborer, was held today for grand jury action in the shotgun killing of two men after a troom quarrel.

Police said Johnson, a worker for the Department of Licenses and Inspections, shot Raymond Fair, 31, a bystander, then turned his 12-gauge shotgun on Edwin Ashmore, 25, with whom he had argued earlier.

Russia Wants Allies To Make Test Ban Concession

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union declared today talks for negotiation of a treaty to ban nuclear testing can only be kept alive if the Western powers offer a major concession.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov said a treaty really is within easy reach and accused the Western powers of stalling.

He left the impression with delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference that Russia expects the West to accept the Soviet offer of a maximum of two or three on-site inspections a year.

In the view of the Western powers this is inadequate to check suspicious earth tremors in the Soviet Union.

"UP TO U.S." Kuznetsov described the Soviet offer as a major concession, and added:

"The matter now rests with the United States."

Outside the conference room, Soviet spokesman Yuri Tcherniakov told newsmen:

"We have made great and important concessions of principle to meet the Western point of view. Our position was and remains that on-site inspections are not necessary. We offered two to three inspections only to overcome the deadlock in the negotiations. We now expect concessions to come from the Western side."

In the conference room, Kuznetsov asserted: "Conditions have never been as favorable as now for banning all nuclear tests."

But he asserted that statements made by American and British delegates since the conference resumed Tuesday "only confirmed our point of view that the Western powers are not seeking agreement on a test ban but are doing everything they can to drag out the negotiations."

"For the Soviet Union there can be no question whether to conclude a treaty or not," Kuznetsov declared. "We adhere to a very clear position. We have moved considerably forward in order to meet the U.S. position. The matter now rests with the United States."

He left little doubt that the Soviet Union was not prepared at this time to raise its offer to permit two or three on-site inspections a year on Soviet territory. The Western powers are demanding eight to 10 inspections.

British Minister of State Joseph Godber declared the two sides "are much nearer together than they have ever been before." But he firmly denied that the West is stalling and recalled that the Western powers have scaled down their minimum inspection demand from 12-20 to 8-10 per year and have abandoned their demand for permanent foreign observers in the Soviet Union.

Student Swamped By "Tall" Ad Calls EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—It pays to advertise, a 6-foot-7 sophomore at Michigan State University has found.

You get girls . . . girls . . . girls. The tall man, Dave Steiner of Grand Blanc, put a two-line advertisement in the State News, college daily, telling his plight.

"Would like to make acquaintance of young lady 6 feet or over. Call Chet," he advertised.

The phone has been ringing ever since, Chet said, explaining that he used the name because two of his roommates are also named David.

"I guess I've averaged 10 calls a day," he said.

He had a date Friday with a 6-2 coed.

Contestant, 90, Frets About Bathing Suit

DORSET, Vt. (AP)—Mrs. Rose L. Kent foresees one difficulty in her bid for the Mrs. America crown at Miami Beach April 22-26.

"At 90," she asks, "how will I look in a bathing suit?"

However, she confidently listed her other qualifications Friday. She has cooked her own bread for 83 years, was happily married for 50 years, raised two sons who today are 62 and 59, concocted a cookie recipe used for more than 80 years, run for the state legislature and has written many articles and poems for newspapers and periodicals.

Contest director Bert Nevins accepted Mrs. Kent's application, saying "This is not a beauty affair. Its purpose is to honor American homemakers. Mrs. Kent qualifies."

ASIAN FLU IS SWEEPING INTO MIDWEST

CHICAGO (AP)—A wave of influenza which has closed schools and brought high job absenteeism in several Eastern Seaboard states since mid-January is pushing into the Midwest.

Asian type flu, similar to that which swept the nation in 1957-58 and again in 1960, has been confirmed in several states, including Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Kansas.

Outbreaks of less severe types of influenza have been widespread. The first confirmed cases this winter were reported last month in Robeson County, North Carolina. The state reported 65,994 new cases last week.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service in Atlanta reported Friday that pneumonia-influenza deaths have been above the epidemic level the past five weeks.

The report, based on figures from 108 cities, showed a sharp upswing in deaths in the week ending Feb. 8.

In Ohio the Cincinnati Health Department said absenteeism among the city's 82,000 public school students jumped to 23 per cent Friday from 15 per cent the day before. Three deaths were blamed on flu, which the department said was caused by an Asian type virus.

There were two confirmed Asian flu cases among students at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Wayne County officials reported growing job absenteeism in the Detroit area.

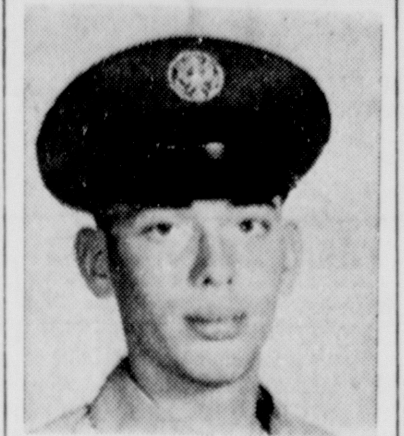

Reports of influenza-like illness in Kentucky, West Virginia and Missouri also indicated a westerly spread of the disease. Hospitals in St. Louis reported admissions had doubled because of a flu outbreak.

An Asian flu outbreak among recruits at Great Lakes Naval Training Center reached a peak earlier this week. It was described as much less severe than a 1957 epidemic.

Health officials in Tennessee say influenza cases have tripled in Memphis since last week. About 500 cases had been reported by Friday, and officials said there probably were other cases not reported.

court-martial last September on former National Assemblyman Cho Chung-suh. He was charged with plotting to overthrow Gen. Chung Hee Park's ruling military junta.

Cho was a ranking member of the defunct Democratic party of former Premier John M. Chang, ousted by the military regime in 1961. Cho's lawyers said they would appeal the death sentence to South Korea's Supreme Court.

Airman Lawrence R. Kujovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Kujovich, 241 E. Lincoln Ave., has been reassigned to Sheppard AFB, Texas, for technical training as a United States Air Force weather equipment repairman. He completed the first phase of his military training at Lackland AFB and was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes. He is a 1961 graduate of Gettysburg High School and attended Gettysburg College.
